The annual Lone Star Land Steward Awards recognize and honor private landowners in Texas for their contributions to land, water and wildlife stewardship. More than 95 percent of land in Texas is privately owned or managed, making their efforts important to all of us.

Launched in 1996, the Lone Star Land Steward Awards are part of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Private Lands Program. The awards program is designed to educate landowners and the public and to encourage participation in habitat conservation through the following objectives:

- Recognize private landowners for excellence in habitat management and wildlife conservation on their lands
- Publicize the best examples of sound natural resource management practices
- Encourage youth education and participation in promoting responsible habitat management and improved ecosystem health
- Promote long-term conservation of unique natural and cultural resources
- Promote ecosystem awareness and acknowledge the best conservation practices in the ecological regions of Texas
- Enhance relationships between private landowners and Texas' natural resource agencies
- Illustrate the important role of Texas' private landowners in the future of our natural resources
